REVISION MUST BE DOWNWARD

Attitude of President Taft Regarding Tariff Bill.

CLASH WITH ALDRICH LIKELY

Chief Executive's Views Antagonistic to Those of the Rhode Island Senator, Who Is in Charge of the Tariff Measure in the Upper House of Congress—MacVeagh's Speech at Chicago a Bombshell in Ranks of the Old Guard.

Washington, June 7.—Have President Taft and Senator Aldrich reached an impasse?

Political Washington read with wonder the speech of Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh at Chicago Saturday night. That speech was more than inspired. It was revised and O. K'd by the president himself before the secretary left Washington, and that Mr. MacVeagh in this address reiterated the president's belief that the Chicago platform promised a downward revision of the tariff is accepted here as formal notice on the senate leaders that the president expects a bill that will embody such downward revision.

It was only a week ago that Senator Lodge made a set speech denying that the Chicago platform promised anything of the kind. A week or so before that Senator Aldrich made the same declaration. He repeated it Friday night in his explanation of the cotton schedule. Whatever else is to be said about the pending tariff bill, here is a direct issue between the man who is smashing the bill through the senate and the man whose signature will be necessary to make it a law.

It looks as though the president and Aldrich were about to lock horns. And with this implied threat of combat it is reported that Secretary MacVeagh pointedly linked with his expressions on the tariff an assertion that the president is the leader of his party and concluded the portion of his speech with these words:

"And you and I must agree—for we cannot escape the conclusion—that it might become at any time the duty of any great party leader to create for his party a new majority and control." The speech has undoubtedly exploded a bombshell in the ranks of the old guard of the senate.

AFTER COTTON SCHEDULE

Senate Will Devote Its Attention to That on Woollens.

Washington, June 7.—Having acted upon most of the vexed problems in the cotton schedule during the past week, the senate expected to complete this schedule by Tuesday. This will bring the senate to the woollen schedule, which is practically a re-enactment of the Dingley rates, and which will be fought by the "progressive" Republicans, aided by the Democratic senators.

Night sessions will be held and indications point to a completion of the woollen schedule by Thursday or Friday. No programme has been outlined as to the schedules to be taken up next, but it is probable that some work will be done upon the free list. A meeting of the finance committee has been called for today and at this meeting the policy of the senate so far as the committee is concerned will be outlined. A date will be fixed also for reporting amendments on a number of questions not yet acted upon in cotton.

On account of the progress made during the past week, senate leaders are predicting that the bill will be voted upon in the senate by June 19, and that congress will be ready to adjourn before July 4.

If a quorum is obtained in the house today the Porto Rican bill will be taken up.

MANY TRAINS ARE STALLED

Tracks Washed Out by Floods in the Rockies.

Winnipeg, Man., June 7.—Disastrous floods continue in the Rocky mountains and traffic is completely tied up at places on the main line of the Canadian Pacific. There has not been a train through for several days and a large number of both east and west-bound passengers are unable to reach destinations. Between Sicamous and Revelstoke serious floods have been caused by a great log jam in the river, which caused the water to flood the track for miles. Several transcontinental trains are held on either side and hundreds of passengers are being housed and fed at the expense of the railway company. Those from the west are eating on dining cars, while those from the east are being cared for at Revelstoke hotels. Among the trains held up on the east side of the flood is a circus train. Many animals are suffering from want of proper food. Fears are expressed that some may escape.

VAINLY ENDEAVORS TO SAVE HIS WIFE

Husband Risks Being Carried Over Niagara Falls.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., June 7.—Louis Cohen of Buffalo saw his young wife leap into Niagara river between Second and Third Sisters islands only 150 feet above the brink of the cataract. Without a moment's hesitation he followed her, caught her hand and struggled to save her.

Mrs. Cohen probably died in her husband's arms. Before it was possible to bring efficient help an hour had passed, during all of which Cohen was making attempts to reach the shore. With his wife tightly clasped to him, he felt the twenty-mile current carry him against a tree, which he caught with his free hand. He shouted for help and word was carried to the reservation police, but nearly an hour elapsed before Officer James Martin, accompanied by Representative James S. Simons and three other men, arrived with ropes.

They threw the rope three times before it fell with Cohen's grasp. When he caught it he was too weak to tie it about his own or his wife's waist. When Cohen finally caught the rope the men on shore began to pull him to land, but within fifteen feet of the shore he lost his grip on his wife's body and it was carried down stream. Cohen's first words when resuscitated were "my wife is out there. Go and get her. She is dead. She died in my arms."

A crowd skirted the Goat Island shore looking for the body and Cohen joined them, insisting that the body must have stopped short of the cataract and might be rescued by men daring enough.

William Barnett and Hugh Brown, two of the searchers, finally saw the body held fast by a rock about 100 feet above the brink. With ropes they waded into the stream and with great difficulty brought it to land. Life was extinct.

Cohen, who recovered quickly from the shock, says that worry over the care of her baby had depressed his wife and probably caused her death.

Four Men Injured.

Wheeling, W. Va., June 7.—In collision between a traction car and an auto four young men, occupants of the automobile, were thrown out and seriously injured.

Florida Negro Lynched.

Tallahassee, Fla., June 7.—Mike Morris, colored, under sentence of death for the murder of the sheriff of Leon county, was taken from the county jail here and lynched. Morris lately had shown signs of insanity.

Archbishop of Ottawa Dead.

Ottawa, Ont., June 7.—Joseph Thomas Duhamel, archbishop of Ottawa, died here of heart failure. He was sixty-eight years old.

FIVE BALLOONS HAVE LANDED

Four Others Are Still on Their Way Southward.

WIN INDIANA ENDURANCE RACE

Dr. Link and R. J. Irvin Remain in the Air About Twenty-four Hours—The Chicago Is Second and the Ohio Third—Aerial Craft Still Aloft Have a Chance to Set a New Record.

Indianapolis, June 7.—Five of the nine balloons that started from this city Saturday in the national distance race of the Aero Club of America and the endurance race of the Aero Club of Indiana, have come back to earth. Three landed Sunday:

The Chicago, with C. A. Coey and John Bennett, entered in the Indiana race, at Scottsville, Ky.

The Indianapolis, with Dr. Geo. Link and R. J. Irvin, in the Indiana race, at Westmoreland, Tenn.

The University City, of St. Louis with John Berry and John McCullough, at Blanche, Tenn., in the national race.

The two balloons that landed Saturday night were:

The Ohio, with Dr. H. W. Thompson and J. Blake, in the Indiana race, at Nashville, Ind.

The Cleveland, with A. H. Morgan and L. H. Wade, in the national race near Columbus, Ind.

All three of the balloons in the Indiana race have landed. Four of those in the national race are yet in the air, sailing in a general southerly direction.

It is reported that the Indiana had been disqualified in the national race by its pilot, Carl G. Fisher of Indianapolis, descending to the earth for water and then proceeding on its journey.

The Indiana endurance race was won by Dr. Link and R. J. Irvin in the Indianapolis. They were in the air about twenty-two hours. The Chicago was second and the Ohio third. The record is forty-four hours, held by Alfred Leblanc of France, who started in the international race from St. Louis, Oct. 21, 1907, for the James Gordon Bennett cup.

The distance record is held by Oscar Erbsloeh of Germany, and was made in the same race. Erbsloeh landed in Asbury Park, N. J., having covered a distance of 852 miles. If the balloons still competing in the national race now on, continue due south they will have to land near Pensacola, which is about 675 miles from Indianapolis, and therefore they would have no chance of beating the record. If, however, they strike a current that carries them southeast into Florida or southwest into Mexico, they can set a new record.

FURTHER INVOLVES HIMSELF

Dr. Cleminson Tangled Up in a Maze of Contradictions and Denials.

Chicago, June 7.—Dr. H. Cleminson further involved himself in a maze of contradictions and denials when he denied he had ever assailed the character of his wife, Norah Jane Cleminson, for whose murder he is being held. This, coupled with the statement of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isiah Cleminson, that the deceased was "a good woman," threw a new light on the mystery and made the possibility of suicide seem more remote.

Detective Albert Boschulte returned from a trip to the southern part of the state without the alleged "affinity" he went in search of. It is said that the woman came to Chicago Saturday to visit relatives and a careful search was immediately begun.

WITH BULLET IN HER HEART

Philadelphia Woman Found Dead in Her Home.

Philadelphia, June 7.—Dressed in silks and wearing her jewels, Mrs. Mary Atemkjian, known in the Armenian colony here for her ability as a violinist, was found in her home with a bullet in her heart. Her husband, Kriger A. Atemkjian, was alone in the house with her at the time the shooting occurred and is being held to await the investigation of the coroner's jury. His wife was twenty-three years old.

Child Burned to Death.

Dallas, Tex., June 7.—In a fire which started in the kitchen of the Knight apartment house at the corner of Elm and Woodward streets, Hershel Dannelly, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Dannelly, was burned to death, two others were fatally injured and several seriously hurt.

MOTHER AND CHILDREN DEAD

Believed That Woman Ended All Their Lives Purposely.

St. Louis, June 7.—Twelve hours after her husband, John Glaesser, a cigar salesman, had been arrested on a charge of embezzlement, Mrs. Martha Glaesser was found dead in bed by the side of the dead bodies of her children, Arnette, a girl eight years old, and John, Jr., five years old. The room was filled with gas and the local police advance the theory that the mother turned it on. The bodies, clad in night robes, were found by the suspect's brother, Nicholas Glaesser. It is supposed that the arrest of her husband prayed on Mrs. Glaesser's mind.

Glaesser was released and the company which caused his arrest said there would be no prosecution, as Glaesser had been punished severely already. When he left the police station the police told him that his wife and babies were ill.

Glaesser was charged with embezzling $275. The police found Glaesser with a bottle of chloroform and pistol in his possession.

They put him in the reservation ward in the city hospital.

JACK JOHNSON'S VICTORY

Referred to in a Sermon Preached by Booker T. Washington.

New York, June 7.—Jack Johnson's title to the heavyweight championship of the world apparently was referred to in a sermon preached by Booker T. Washington to the Negro Men's Business League of New York. The fighter's name was not mentioned, however.

"In the last analysis," Dr. Washington told his hearers, "success is what counts. Success, despite race or color, makes the man on top respect you. What the world wants is success. Hold up your successes; don't herald your gloom."

"You remember when a member of our race went to Australia warnings were sounded that the color line would be drawn."

"It is a Godsend that he won. It shows to the negro race what determination will do."

"The time has come when a negro must get a commercial, business and economic footing, and get it in this generation or fail in ever getting it. Commerce and the dollar draw no color line. The man who produces what somebody else wants will get the trade."

WHEN DETECTIVES REPORT

Interesting Disclosures Expected in the Binkley Case.

Chicago, June 7.—Interesting disclosures in the mystery surrounding the death of Dr. John T. Binkley of Evansville, Ind., are looked for when the two detectives who went to Evansville to investigate the doctor's life there make their report to Police Captain P. D. O'Brien. Captain O'Brien is working on the theory that an enemy of Dr. Binkley followed him from Evansville and killed him. Nothing new in the case has developed.

The police have decided that Clarence Newton, who was arrested Saturday, knows nothing concerning Dr. Binkley's death. He is still being held, but only on the charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Later Newton is said to have confessed that he had committed burglary in Asheville, O., and had also stolen a horse and buggy. The Ohio authorities have been communicated with and they answered that a sheriff would arrive in Chicago to claim Newton as a prisoner.

AGED PHILADELPHIA JOURNALIST IS DEAD

Colonel Alexander McClure Expires at Wallingford, Pa.

Philadelphia, June 7.—Colonel Alexander McClure, prothonotary of the supreme and superior courts of Pennsylvania and for many years a prominent figure in politics and journalism died at his home in Wallingford, Delaware county, Pa., aged eighty-one years.

Colonel McClure for some time had been suffering from infirmities due to advanced years. For the first time in more than a week he felt able to leave his room, and he sat on the porch of his home for a short time. Feeling himself growing weaker, he asked to be assisted to a lounge in the parlor, and died a few minutes after he had been taken into the house.

Colonel McClure was born in Perry county, Pennsylvania. He first gained political prominence in 1856, when he was nominated and defeated for auditor general by the Whigs. A member of the Republican convention which nominated Lincoln in 1860, McClure was the one who suggested that the Pennsylvania delegates should break away from Simon Cameron of Pennsylvania and vote for Lincoln. This was done and Lincoln stamped the convention.

When the Civil war broke out, McClure was a leader in the state senate and urged vigorous action. He was chairman of the committee on military affairs and was closely identified with the war policy of Governor Curtin. He formed close relations with President Lincoln and his cabinet and took a prominent part in national politics. As adjutant general he superintended the drafting of Pennsylvania troops.

Colonel McClure came to Philadelphia more than fifty years ago and for a time he practiced law. With the late Frank McLaughlin he established the Times and for years wielded a trenchant editorial pen.

DEATH HOURLY EXPECTED

Doctor Who Was Stabbed by a Butcher Is in a Critical Condition.

Cambridge, Mass., June 7.—The death of Dr. Daniel C. Hays, who was stabbed by John Murphy, the hog butcher who killed five men and seriously wounded three others at Somerville Saturday, is expected hourly. John Cheever and Joseph Chicosek, who also were stabbed, both are in a critical condition and their recovery is considered doubtful.

In a padded cell at the Somerville police station, Murphy allowed no one to approach him and after hours of raving, he began to pray.

UNCONSCIOUS MANY DAYS

Lowell's So-Called "Sleeping Sickness" Girl Is Dead.

Lowell, Mass., June 7.—Louisiana Plette, Lowell's so-called "sleeping sickness" girl, died after lying practically unconscious for thirty-two days. During that time the only nourishment which passed her lips was the milk forced through her teeth. The girl had four other similar spells, lying unconscious for days, each longer than the former. A sleep last fall of thirty days was ended by electric treatment given by physicians.

APPEAL FOR CO-OPERATION

Made by the Countess of Aberdeen in Brooklyn.

New York, June 7.—An appeal for co-operation in the crusade recently inaugurated by the women of Ireland for the prevention of the spread of tuberculosis in that country was made from the platform of Plymouth church, Brooklyn, by the Countess of Aberdeen, wife of the lord lieutenant of Ireland. The countess arrived in New York Saturday night. The appeal was directed particularly to Americans of Irish descent now resident in the United States, whom Lady Aberdeen regarded as most directly affected by the toll of 12,000 lives exacted in Ireland yearly by the disease.

Thanks to the campaign of education conducted by the Women's National Health association of Ireland in the past two years, the countess said the mortality figures as regards tuberculosis had been decreased this year "by a decimal point."

This had been accomplished largely through the holding of tuberculosis exhibits in eighty different districts and the establishment by the Women's National Health association of 173 branches, each of which conducted courses in hygiene and organized various movements for a campaign of education.

Lady Aberdeen told of the gift to the Women's National Health association of a plant for the pasteurization of milk by Nathan Straus of New York and of a donation of $500 received from the late P. F. Collier. She and the other members of the association hoped that further gifts received would permit the erection of much needed hospitals and sanitariums in Ireland for the treatment of advanced cases.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

Grand Rapids, Wis., June 7.—The explosion of a boiler in a boat at Rice lake, north of this city, resulted in the death of one man and seriously injured two others. The explosion killed Engineer Joseph Sellers, seriously injured Fireman William Brey and Craneman Julius Bopp and wrecked the boat.

Flanagan Breaks Record.

New York, June 7.—John Flanagan of the Irish-American Athletic club made a world's record with the 16-pound hammer thrown from a seven-foot circle at Celtic park, Long Island city, of 174 feet, 3 3/4 inches. The former record, 173 feet, 7 inches, was held by Matthew McGrath.

Cured Hemorrhages of the Lungs
"Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages," writes A. M. Ake, of Wood, Ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's Honey and Tar, and my lungs are now as sound as a bell. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble." Foley's Honey and Tar stops the cough and heals the lungs, and prevents serious results from a cold. Refuse substitutes. H. P. Dunn. m w f

LARGEST OF STATUES.
Colossal Effigy of Victor Emmanuel II. Cast For Capital at Rome.
The bronze equestrian statue of Victor Emmanuel II, intended to surmount the monument to the first king of Italy on the capitol at Rome, has recently been cast. Owing to the huge proportions of the statue, which is the largest in the world, special molds had to be provided for the casting. They were divided into thirteen sections. An idea of the colossal size of the statue may be formed from the following figures: The king's sword is over twelve feet in length and weighs about 775 pounds. The harness weighs over four tons. Over thirteen tons of metal were used in casting the horse's chest and body, while the head of the king, including the helmet, measures seven feet and weighs 46,250 pounds. There is room for thirty men inside the hollow body. Its size is unparalleled in history or legend, with the exception of the celebrated wooden horse fabled to have been used at the siege of Troy.

MARATHON RACE AT NIGHT.
Rutland (Vt.) County Fair Plans One to Be Held in September.
A Marathon race of the full distance, 26 miles 285 yards, will probably be one of the features of the Rutland county fair at Rutland, Vt., in September, and it is planned to hold the contest at night.
Secretary W. K. Farnsworth has been in communication with George V. Brown, manager of the Boston Athletic association, regarding the race. The plan is to have some of the best long distance men enter the contest and to have the track at the fair grounds lighted by electricity.

He Left.
An old retired sea captain thus describes the vessel which he dismissed an undesirable sailor for the hand of his daughter:
"I just showed him the companion-way out on the gangplank leading from my house and gently remarked that the wind was offshore and the sooner he got under way the better offing he would get before morning. He at once took the hint, got under way, paid off, bore away and went down the road under all sail with the offshore breeze."

A Heroic Slave.
There was a humble slave in the palace of the Caliph Haroun al Raschid. The caliph had in his audience chamber twenty rare vases, and it was written in the laws of Bagdad that he who should have the misfortune to break one of these would pay the penalty with his life. This slave one day broke a vase. He was instantly seized, tried and condemned to death. But the caliph had no sooner pronounced sentence on him than the slave turned, and, walking calmly to the other nineteen vases, with one sweep of the arm destroyed them all.
"Wretch," the caliph thundered, "why have you done that barbarous deed?"
"To save the lives of nineteen of my fellow countrymen," the doomed slave replied.

Munich an Artistic Leader.
Munich is in great part a creation of the nineteenth century. Yet when one sees how artfully and lovingly she has woven the new about whatever remains of the old it is easy to understand why she has been Germany's artistic leader for the last hundred years and why such geniuses as Lenbach, Von Uhde, Schwanthaler, Orlandi Lasso and Richard Strauss have felt at home there.—Robert Haven Schaffer in Century.

I. T. Dean has been in Minneapolis this week with his wife, who has just returned from the east and was aken suddenly ill at that city on her return. She is better, however, and they will probably return to Brainerd Saturday.

Brainerd has a hotel to be proud of in the Arlington. The formal opening last night would have done credit to a much larger and more pretensions city.
J. T. Sanborn and wife are visiting in Maine and someone started the rumor that they perished in the Jamestown flood, which report was entirely without foundation.
The railroad picnic will be held at Glenwood, on lake Minnewaska, this year.
A new daughter put in an appearance at Fred Parker's house last Friday.
Co. K. leave for Lake City today to attend the annual encampment.

A man who is in perfect health, so he can do an honest day's work when necessary, has much for which he should be thankful. Mr. L. C. Rodgers, of Branchton, Pa., writes that he was not only unable to work, but he couldn't stoop over to tie his own shoes. Six bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure made a new man of him. He says, "Success to Foley's Kidney Cure." H. P. Dunn. m w f

Grace Gage is working for Mrs. Taylor.

Mrs. L. Thompson and Eva Thompson were Brainerd callers Monday.
Mr. Taylor took Mrs. Taylor out for a drive Tuesday and they called on several of the neighbors.

Long Reigns.
Louis XIV., king of France, ascended the throne on the 14th of May, 1643, and occupied it till his death on the 1st of September, 1715, a period of seventy-two years and 110 days. He was succeeded by his great-grandson, who became Louis XV. and reigned for nearly fifty-nine years, these two successive reigns amounting in the aggregate to 131 years, which is another record.

If ancient records are to be believed, King Pepy II. of Egypt enjoyed a reign extending over the extraordinary period of ninety-four years.

MUSIC AND DRAMA
St. Cecilia's Annual Festival Program
Tickets are selling rapidly for the annual festival program to be rendered by the pupils of St. Cecilia's Hall, at the opera house, on the evening, June 10th, and no doubt there will be the usual large attendance.

Black Patti's Troubadours had practically no house at all Saturday night. They gave a fair show of its kind but there was nothing remarkable about any feature of it, though there was much mirth provoking nonsense.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. Still Believe in Witchcraft.
A belief in witchcraft still prevails in parts of Lancashire, England; also in the Isle of Man and still more strongly in the Hebrides. A writer in Chambers' Journal gives some interesting anecdotes of the superstitions which persist among the Hebrideans. Belief in witchcraft is said to have a "strong and living hold" on some of the people of those outer isles. An instance is given of a case heard before the Stornoway sheriff's court not many years ago, in which witnesses deposed to there being several witches in the township, one of whom was charged with so bewitching cows that the substance of their milk passed into the milk of the witch's cow. The husband of the alleged witch stated in court that when he heard the rumors about his wife he got three of the constables of the township to come and examine his cow's milk to see if it were any richer than usual, as would be the case if the substance of Mrs. A.'s cow's milk were present in it. Other evidence of this remarkable transubstantiation was given. The sheriff ridiculed the notion of witchcraft, but the Stornowegians stuck to it with absolute faith.

The nut trees alone of the world could at a pinch feed a population three times as great as the present number of inhabitants.

"The names of the couple will remain a secret," Mrs. May Arkwright Hutton, head of the Spokane Suffrage club, said, "until it is time to show the world, instead of alienating women from the fireside, the suffrage movement tends toward the creation of home ties."

As a Family Medicine

Lots of suffering would be avoided and much serious disease prevented if every family did as the writer of this letter suggests.

He has found out from experience with many medicines that there is nothing so good as Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills as a family medicine for biliousness and constipation. Such diseases as Bright's disease, diabetes and appendicitis almost invariably arise from neglect to keep the liver, kidneys and bowels regular.

This emphasizes the wisdom of keeping Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills constantly at hand.

Mr. Wm. PALARDY, 146 Summer St., Central Falls, R. I., writes:—"I think Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills most excellent as a cure for biliousness and constipation. We would not think of being without them in the house as a family medicine. I have used many medicines but none ever suited my case so well."

One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

CANNON'S BOXING ABILITY.

Speaker Drove His Right Into Ribs of Clerk Who Taunted Him as Fighter.

Speaker of the House Cannon, who sparred recently with "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien at the latter's training camp, demonstrated his pugilistic ability again the other day at Washington. Uncle Joe was sitting in his office in the capitol smoking a long black cigar when Alexander McDowell, clerk of the house, entered.

"What's all this I hear about your prowess with the mitts?" said McDowell tauntingly. "The only way you can fight is with a gavel."

"Is that so?" drawled the speaker, without removing his cigar. "Dye want a personal demonstration? Put up your dukes right now and I'll show you a trick or two."

McDowell laughingly raised his hands as Uncle Joe sprang to his feet. He advanced his right foot awkwardly and thrust his right hand out before him.

"Oh, come, come!" said the speaker. "Get in proper position. You don't know anything about the game. You look like an elderly lady trying to shoo chickens out of a garden patch. Put your left foot forward and guard with your left arm. That's better. Now look out."

With the warning Uncle Joe made a few feints that had the effect of completely demoralizing McDowell. Side-stepping quickly, he feinted wickedly with his left for the McDowell chin and as the clerk threw up both guards drove a hard one into the official's ribs.

"Ugh!" said McDowell, and a look of pained surprise crept over his face.

"It was a shame to do it," said Uncle Joe, picking up his cigar and starting for the door.

"Come back!" challenged McDowell vociferously. "Come back and make it a finish fight. I dare you."

"Aw, go and get a reputation first," was the speaker's retort as he vanished in a curling cloud of smoke.

"IN GOD WE TRUST" ON CENT

Lincoln Penny Will Bear Inscription and Mark Departure in Coinage.

Director of the Mint Leach in Washington has ordered that "In God We Trust" appear on the new Lincoln cent, the designs and models for which were recently completed by Victor D. Brenner, the New York sculptor and medalist.

Dies of the Lincoln penny had already been made and proofs struck off and submitted to President Taft and other officials. In a letter received recently from the Philadelphia mint Superintendent Landis wrote that it was expected to issue the penny in June, but the other day Mr. Brenner was advised from Washington that the words "In God We Trust" must appear on the coin above the head of Lincoln. The pennies now are not expected to be issued before August, when the dies will be distributed among the United States mints and pennies coined simultaneously at Philadelphia, San Francisco and Denver.

The Lincoln penny marks a departure in American coinage. Coins produced by American mints have never borne the heads of any particular persons, only those depicting Liberty or the American Indian.

PERIL IN BRIGHT HEADLIGHTS

Make Enginemen Color Blind and Interfere With Reading Signals.

The dangers which arise from substituting strong electric headlights for those now used on railroad locomotives was emphasized at Indianapolis in a conference held the other day by the railroad commission of Indiana and reports of virtually all railroads operating in the state.

The conference was called to consider the law recently enacted according to which the commission has power to order locomotives to be equipped with stronger headlights if it finds that such a step is advisable.

The dangers from the stronger type of lamps, it was shown, arise from the fact, supported by a large number of practical tests, that the intensity of the rays, when used on a locomotive, tends to destroy the power of the engineman to distinguish among the colors used in switch lamps and that sitting behind the strong rays for a considerable length of time produces fatigue of the eyes and interferes with the reading of night train orders and signals.

LOEB, REFORMER OF THE CUSTOM HOUSE

Former White House Secretary, Now Collector of Port of New York, Who Made the Sugar Trust Pay $2,000,000 in Duties of Which the Government Had Been Defrauded.

Brainy Hustler Who Worked His Way Up by Ability, Discretion and Tact—A Good Judge of Men, Quiet, Kindly and Always on the Job. :: :: :: ::

By JAMES A. EDGERTON.

WHEN a man has been stenographer to an Episcopal bishop, secretary of a Republican county committee, reporter of a state assembly, private secretary to a speaker of the house of a state legislature, private secretary to a president pro tem. of a state senate and afterward holding the same capacity when this man was a candidate for governor, private secretary to a lieutenant governor, stenographer for a district attorney and grand jury, doing confidential work for one governor and later being private secretary to another, then becoming private secretary to the vice president and afterward assistant secretary and next secretary to the president of the United States and finally collector of the port of New York, and all before he is forty-three years old, the inevitable conclusion is that that man has brains, tact and energy—the three chief requisites of success. There is no use trying to conceal longer who the man is. His name is Loeb—William Loeb, Jr.—fondly called in the old days Loebster, Loebster, Loeb the Goat and Loeb the Poor Indian. Loeb has held all these positions and more, possesses all these qualities and more and has been handed all these names and more—oh, many more! If the full list sumers. Those newspaper roasts came at just the psychological moment to affect congress. Of course Loeb had no designs in the matter, yet the thing could not have been better timed. Loeb is most innocent, yet rather effective, when it comes to matters of publicity. The upshot of the whole matter was that the trust paid over $2,000,000 without further parley. It could stand off the courts, but it could not stand off the press.

Controls Nineteen Hundred Men.

The new collector of the port did not stop at making the sugar trust disgorge. He found a system of frauds in short weight entries, and as a consequence several subordinate officials have been shifted, others discharged, and a wholesale shaking up is now going forward in the New York custom house. It should be mentioned in passing that politically the collectorship of the port of New York is one of the most important places in the government. From it Chester A. Arthur worked his way to the presidency, and other men have pretty effectually controlled New York state politics with it as a leverage. It controls an army of 1,900 federal employees and has charge of the three chief government buildings in the metropolis. The collector takes in something like $220,000,000 annually, passes on the bulk of imports into the United States and con-of endearing epithets that have been applied to him were set down in order, this article would occupy a whole page, and then there would be no room for rhetoric or trimmings.

We all remember—how can we forget?—the departed and sizzling years when Loeb was scapegoat extraordinary and buffer plenipotentiary for about everything that went amiss in this nation. If anything unpleasant happened at the White House, as many unpleasant things did happen every fifteen minutes of every day, it was "Loeb did it." For one individual to have accomplished all the mistakes, inadvertencies and downright cruelties then ascribed to Loeb would have proved him the most industrious man that ever lived.

Made the Sugar Trust Pay Up.

Well, Loeb is still doing things, and as we all took a shy at him in those troublous times for what it was said he did in the name of another it is but fair that we now give him a boost for what he is doing in his own name. The story of the way Loeb made the sugar trust pay $2,000,000 in duties of which it had defrauded the government is still being chuckled over both in New York and Washington. Loeb found that suits had been entered to force the trust to disgorge, but the trust lawyers had interposed technicalities and dilatory motions, so that there was no hope of reaching the cases for years. Then the new collector of the port got busy, and what he did to the sugar trust was plenty. Calling in the newspaper men, he asked them if they would print a story on the matter. Would they? Are newspaper men overlooking first page scare head stories, especially in the dull season? The way the papers played up that case was in the most approved yellow style.

Now, at that particular time it was not just convenient for the trust to be dragged into the limelight in this fashion. A tariff bill was being framed, and the benevolent gentlemen running the corporation wanted a little higher duties so they could take a few more millions out of the pockets of the controls patronage that makes him a power in the chief city and state of the Union.

It is refreshing that a man of Loeb's character can come into such a position, for he is not a creature of the political machine, but worked his way up by ability, discretion and tact. He is under no obligations to anybody but ex-President Roosevelt and President Taft, with both of whom he has had and still has the closest relations. His propinquity to Roosevelt is sufficiently indicated by the fact that Loeb was called "assistant president," and as for Taft, it is generally understood in Washington that behind the scenes Loeb was the real manager of the big man's campaign for the nomination. But outside of these two William Loeb, Jr., is a very independent citizen, of which fact he has given gratifying evidence during the brief time he has been in an office in his own right.

Breadwinner at Eleven.

Loeb was born in Albany, and his father still keeps a small shop in that city. The boy was a breadwinner from the time he was eleven. He was deprived of a college education, but managed to work his way through high school. Then he took a course in stenography and persevered until he was known as the best reporter in Albany. He is a good judge of men, is quiet, hard working and always on the job. Despite the chaffing he received when Roosevelt's secretary, he was most popular, especially with the newspaper men, who are keen judges of character. One of his most notable characteristics is kindness, his motto being "to have a friend, be a friend." There were innumerable instances in which he did favors for people in a quiet way. He was ever a cutter of red tape and often straightened out tangles by a line or a phone message to some department, thus adjusting difficulties that would have taken months to unravel in the ordinary routine. Mr. Loeb married Miss Katherine Dorr of Buffalo, whom he had met in Albany, the ceremony taking place at the time he was assistant secretary to the president.

AT LEAST TEN LIVES ARE LOST

Crowded Pier Collapses at Mandeville, La.

THROWN INTO THE WATER

Large Number of Persons Precipitated Into Lake Pontchartrain and Ten of Them Are Known to Have Perished—Many Others Injured and From Twenty to Forty Are Missing and May Have Been Drowned.

New Orleans, June 7.—By the caving-in of an excursion boat wharf at Mandeville, La., situated on the north shore of Lake Pontchartrain, thirty miles from New Orleans, at least ten lives are known to have been lost.

For some reason a boat landing had been changed to a wharf which had not been used for some months. Scores of people crowded upon the landing on the approach of the steamer Margaret and when the vessel drew a few feet alongside the crash came.

Men, women and children went into the water. The nearness to the shore was responsible for the rescue of the great majority of those thrown into the lake.

Besides the ten persons known to have been drowned, many were injured and from twenty to forty are missing as the result of the collapse of the crowded pier.

The excursion steamer Margaret arrived here bearing the dead bodies of Marie Gorten, Catherine Gorten, Laura Ray, Lizzie Lotz, Alice von Chaffin, Mrs. Eberhard and her eight-year-old child, Mrs. Charles Bruno and her child and Jennie Pabst.

Every Sunday great excursions leave New Orleans on the lake steamers to spend the day across the lake, usually picnicking at Mandeville. The accident occurred just as the boat load was to be returned to New Orleans.

As is the custom of the people when a boat is making a landing, all crowded down on the flimsy wharf to get aboard for the trip to their homes. As the vessel came closer, the crowd from the rear pushed heavily on the mass until there was no room to move about.

Then the vessel struck the pier. The platform swayed; then the apron broke, pitching the entire crowd into the lake.

So great was the confusion at first that nothing could be done and it was with the greatest effort on the part of the men of the party that many women were saved from drowning.

Owing to the distance from the city details are meager, and owing to the great excitement prevailing here when the Margaret arrived it has been impossible as yet to secure any story from the survivors.

ROBBERS TORTURE WOMEN

Burn Their Feet to Make Them Revealing Hiding Place of Money.

Pittsburg, June 7.—Five men, all masked, entered the home of Mrs. Minnie Ashe, aged ninety years, in the outskirts of Belmont, Pa., near here, and ransacked the place. With the aged woman were her daughter, Mrs. Mary Ober, sixty years old, and her grand-daughter, Miss Minnie Ober, twenty-three years old. The men found only $3.50 in the house and believing there was more, they bound the three women and tortured them. The men bound the three women to chairs and held lighted candles to their feet. Before leaving the house the burglars released Miss Ober, who later recovered sufficiently to summon help.

The entire mining village is searching for the men, but owing to the fact that all were masked little hope is held that any of them will be captured.

THREE MURDERERS ESCAPE

Natives Who Killed Chicago Professor Get Away.

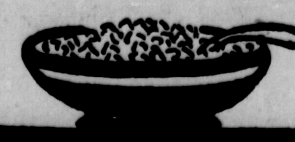

Manila, June 7.—Three natives convicted of the murder of Dr. William Jones, anthropologist of the Chicago Columbian museum, who was killed while studying the hill tribes some months ago, escaped from their guards while on the way to this city, where the death sentence pronounced was to have been executed, and are still at large. The prisoners were being brought overland through the mountains of Nueva Vizcaya province to Pangasinan. During the night they eluded their guards and disappeared into the jungle.

As soon as the next constabulary station was reached patrols were sent out to follow the trail and these are still in chase of the fugitives, but their recapture is considered doubtful.

Sturgis, S. D., June 7.—The jury in the case of Oscar Jacobs, on trial for the murder of Elba Roberts at this place last January, returned a verdict of guilty, fixing the punishment at life imprisonment.

HOME FOR HARVARD LAMPOON

Will Be the Only College Publication That Can Make Such a Boast.

Already distinguished as the oldest comic paper in the United States, the Harvard Lampoon is to have a handsome building, giving it the honor of possessing the only one owned and occupied by a college publication and of being one of the few comic papers to have homes of their own.

Work has already begun on the structure in Cambridge, Mass., so that the handsome quarters will be ready for "Lampy" by next fall. An entire block bounded by Bow, Mount Auburn and Plympton streets will be utilized.

Edmund March Wheelwright, '76, who was one of the founders of the paper, now a distinguished architect, has drawn the plans in the style of Dutch renaissance. Molded brick, mullioned windows and a tiled roof with two towers give the building a quaint distinction from other college structures. This striking clubhouse, which is to be flanked with Lombardy poplars, will, however, harmonize artistically with its surroundings.

One of the features will be the tower containing the ibis nest, an exclusive apartment for the president of the board of editors. The ibis is a wise bird which interjects remarks in the dialogue of the "By the Way" column, which is a perennial feature of the Lampoon humor. Professor Barrett Wendell, '77, when an editor of the Lampoon, originated the ibis as a feature of the paper, the sagacious bird being used as was the dog in the English Punch.

The nest is in the western tower and from a balcony overlooks the big banquet hall. Lampoon dinners will undoubtedly in the future be as famous as those of the past, because the new building will have special kitchens and halls for the purpose. There is also to be a large hall for Lampoon celebrations.

That Mr. Wheelwright should be the architect is especially fitting, since he was not only on the first board of editors, but also designed the cover page for the original issue, which has become a trademark.

"Lampy" was born in the minds of Ralph Wormeley Curtis, '76, and his classmate, John T. Wheelwright, who while attending a course of lectures on the fine arts given by the late Charles Eliot Norton conceived the idea of producing a "college Punch." The first number was issued Feb. 10, 1876.
